Foreword

AS STUDENTS WE REALIZE THE OPPORTUNITY AND OBLIGATION PLACED BEFORE US BY THE CIRCUMSTANCES SURROUNDING OUR GENERATION. IN THIS FOURTH YEAR OF WORLD WAR WE ARE CONSCIOUS OF THE MANY ANXIETIES, FEARS, AND LONGINGS ENDURED BY EACH INDIVIDUAL. IT IS OUR HOPE THAT WE MAY CONTRIBUTE WORTHILY TO THE WORLD PEACE, DISTINGUISHING BETWEEN THE MERELY TRIVIAL AND THE TRULY WORTH WHILE.

IN THIS BOOK WE HAVE ATTEMPTED TO PERPETUATE THESE HAPPY MEMORIES OF THIS COLLEGE YEAR AND TO SHOW HOW THE VARIOUS ACTIVITIES IN WHICH WE TAKE PART HELP TO MOLD AND SHAPE OUR CHARACTERS, IMPARTING TO US THE SPIRIT OF FRATERNAL LOVE AND COMRADESHIP.

Dedication

TO

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Sanders

As we strive to become worthy American citizens we must have persons to whom we can look for sound guidance. To express our sincere appreciation for their beneficial instruction and counsel given to us during our days here at Martin, we, the Martinaire Staff of 1945, respectfully dedicate this book to Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Sanders.

TO THE MARTINAIRE STAFF AND OTHER STUDENTS OF MARTIN COLLEGE:

I welcome this opportunity to express to you my appreciation of the splendid record you have provided in the 1945 MARTINAIRE.

Your friendship, loyalty, and good work have also been a source of strength and inspiration to me throughout this, my first year at Martin College. Some of you will remain with us another year. We continue to welcome you on our campus. Others will graduate and go elsewhere. Our best wishes go with you.

May the activities, associations, and memories of this year continue to bind us together and serve as a perpetual inspiration to useful and joyous living.

Sincerely yours,

E. H. ELAM, President.

Tuesday, September 5 . . .

Today a great event, which will long be remembered, took place in our lives—registering for college. We began filling record cards at one o'clock and many of us were still filling them at five, but without the encouragement of the understanding teachers it would have taken days. After satisfying the Dean with our cards we took our places in the line into Mr. Elam's office. Having done the snail's pace for an hour we collapsed in his consultation chair. We can't quite realize what has happened today.

After dinner tonight we gathered on the steps of Tennessee Hall for songs. Then we had folk games on the lawn and got acquainted with all the other students and faculty members. After playing we chatted in groups and relaxed with a coke.

Wednesday, September 6 . . .

This morning the formal opening of the 1944-45 year of Martin College was held in the auditorium with the members of the Board of Trustees present, and many friends. They wished us good luck and a happy, profitable year.

Thursday, September 7 . . .

It seemed as if the bell began to bong 'way in the middle of the night. The first honest to goodness school day! We juniors learn "There's Been a Change" from high school to college life.

Saturday, September 9 . . .

Had classes until noon today but now we have our hard-earned weekend vacation. Tonight we had a song fete and watermelon feast on the lawn. We think now that we are able to associate everyone's name with his face. Oh, but this looks like it is going to be a year packed with friends and fun.

Friday, September 15 . . .

Donning our evening dresses we went to the formal reception tonight. After meeting the faculty and local board members in the long receiving line, we met in the dining room for refreshments. It was so much fun that we couldn't leave until we talked with some of the alumni and friends of the college, and sang informally around the piano by request of the guests.

Saturday, September 16 . . .

We left the city limits tonight and traveled hay-ride fashion to Bevel Springs. We untangled ourselves and pulled the pretzels from our arms and legs in a fast junior-senior softball game. The juniors were overpowering—by one point. Afterward, we sat on the grass and ate one of Mrs. Fariss' bountiful picnic suppers. At dusk we called the mountain climbers down and wedged ourselves into the truck. School spirit hit with a bang when we rode around the courthouse giving Martin yells.

Sunday, October 1 . . .

Martin College was well represented at the Tennessee Conference of Methodist Churches in Nashville. All P. K.'s are anxious to know where their preacher papas will live next.

Saturday, October 7 . . .

All students and able-bodied faculty members hiked by a very perilous and roundabout route to Fort Hill for a wiener roast. Jack Henry and Mr. Jones told us some interesting stories of the Civil War battles which took place in "these parts." After we had eaten we gathered around the campfire and Mr. Peterson told us one of those surprise ending ghost stories.

Saturday, October 14 . . .

A musical program was given in the auditorium tonight presenting some of the talented. Betty June, Ernestine, Inez, and Nancy Jo played our favorite songs. Anna Ruth gave an excellent rendition of Shakespeare's "Seven Ages of Men." Mary Frances and Josephine led us in singing.

Saturday, October 28 . . .

The gymnasium was decorated with glowing jack-o'-lanterns, black cats, corn shocks, and other symbols of the season for our Halloween party tonight. We really got into the Halloween spirit when we were blindfolded and led by Loyde Middleton on a winding trail to the gym. We modeled our costumes in a grand march so that the judges might select the costumed winners. The lucky pair was Mr. (Mrs.) and Mrs. (Mr.) Elam. We pinned the tails on the black cat, bobbed for apples, played bingo and had our fortunes told. Sipping on tasty cider and mincing delicious gingerbread we sat on the floor of the darkened gym and listened, fascinated, to Mr. Elam's "true" ghost story.

Sunday, October 29 . . .

The Glee Club made its first public appearance today, singing "The One Hundredth Psalm," as the choir of the First Methodist Church.

Tuesday, October 31 . . .

The mischievous witches, alias the seniors, brought fun and frolic to Jane's and Joy's room where the juniors had gathered to tell ghost stories. It was some prank when they securely barred the door. Stifling our giggles and muffling the sounds of our confusion, we finally sneaked down creaky stairs to bed.

Saturday, November 4 . . .

The Dramatics Club transformed the auditorium into a theater tonight and presented a variety of one-act plays. Betty June was a convincing mother to Gerry Culps who wooed and won Evelyn Hulme in "Bargains." The sneaking thief played by Nancy Jo in the "Drama of Ah's" brought hilarious response from the audience. Roberta acted the exasperating maid for Loyde and Anna Ruth in "Rosalie."

Tuesday, November 14 . . .

One of the most interesting programs in observation of Book Week was presented in chapel this morning by the Children's Literature Class. The theme was based on "The Children's Hour." As Longfellow (Emily Davis) told the stories of future books to his daughters Alice (Inez Moore), Edith (Jane Dunavant), and Allegra (Sue Petty), the fictitious characters appeared in their characteristic roles.

Wednesday, November 15 . . .

The Board of Trustees of Martin College met here today for an all-day meeting. Dr. King Vivion was in charge of a very impressive chapel program at which Bishop Kern presented the school with a lovely picture of the Parthenon. At the close of their meeting late this afternoon the Home Economics Club honored the visitors with a tea.

Saturday, November 18 . . .

Informality was the keynote of the party in which the boys entertained the girls at Martin Hall with "Fore Years Kollege in Too Ours" tonight. We especially enjoyed the interior decoration class in a tour of the boys' rooms. After classes and refreshments we assembled in the lobby for stunts. The mock faculty was chosen best by a unanimous vote.

Sunday, November 19 . . .

Miss Channley, representing the World Student Association, was the guest speaker at S. C. A. this afternoon. In answer to her appeal for our donations to the World Student Service Fund we collected $52.10.

Saturday, November 25 . . .

Our exams started today but we forgot all worries in time to dress in our formals and attend the Thanksgiving banquet. The dining room was beautifully decorated with fruit as a centerpiece, studded with candles, and encircled by ivy. After the delicious turkey dinner Mr. Elam, the toastmaster, presented Brother Calhoun, who made a very interesting talk on Thanksgiving, elaborating with several humorous jokes.

Sunday, November 26 . . .

We heard the sextet sing at First Methodist Church this morning but at one o'clock we turned our thoughts to the intellectual in order to do better tomorrow than we did yesterday.

Monday, November 27 . . .

Final exams were resumed this morning at 8:00 o'clock. It seems as if we are having our cake and eating it too, because we leave for home and Thanksgiving vacation as soon as that last quiz is completed. Will this day ne-e-e-ver end??

Tuesday, November 28 . . .

Exams completed, hurrah! We juniors are anxious to go home and show our parents and friends what three months' college life has done for us.

Winter Quarter

Monday, December 4 . . .

We straggled in from Thanksgiving vacation through the day and through the night. Smiling faces proved that the thought uppermost in our minds was, "It's only three weeks 'til Christmas."

Thursday, December 7 . . .

This morning in chapel Dot Long and Rebecca Burns, cochairmen of the Bond-Stamp Committee, sponsored a playlet, "It's the Little Things That Count."

Saturday, December 9 . . .

The dormitory was bursting with excitement tonight when the ball teams were announced and the suits were given out for the first game of the season. Our first opponents were the teams from the General Shoe Corporation. To our disappointment they were victors. Guess we haven't gotten warmed up yet.

Sunday, December 10 . . .

Rev. Frank Calhoun was the guest speaker at S. C. A. this afternoon. His subject, "Methodism," was very interesting and informative to us.

The snow falling on the campus was beautiful tonight and from each dormitory window we saw our campus in pictures of fairyland beauty.

From the sublime to the ridiculous—Syble and Zella's lavatory fell, turning their room topsy-turvy. Wading was a novel treat in December.

Thursday, December 14 . . .

We all dashed or sauntered, owing to what we thought awaited us, to the registrar's office. We had received permission to see our final grades. It's an important day for us.

Friday, December 15 . . .

We began to get the holiday spirit tonight when we got our copy of the Christmas edition of the school paper. Our compliments to the Martinet staff.

Sunday, December 17 . . .

The Dramatics Club and Glee Club gave superb performances this afternoon when they presented a Christmas pageant. The Glee Club, representing an angel choir, formed an effective background for the hallowed scenes. The cast was as follows:

Mary, the mother of Jesus—Mildred Fariss.

Joseph—Jack Henry.

Gabriel—Geraldine Culp.

Zachariah—Mr. Peterson.

Shepherds—Allen Kelton, Jesse Williams, and Wesley Soto.

Three Kings—Buster Reed, Bill Moore, and Bill Tice.

Reader—Loyde Middleton.

For the final number the Glee Club performed Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus."

Following the old Christmas tradition we sang carols before every home in which a candle burned. Mr. and Mrs. Gil Abernathy, Sue, and Gil, Jr., greeted us with a warm welcome. They had invited us to come to their home last.

Monday, December 18 . . .

The Home Economics Club made eleven children happy this afternoon when we went back to our childhood days and gave them a Christmas party with singing, games, and a Santa Claus. When we looked into the shining faces of the children, it made us believe that Santa Claus was real.

Tuesday, December 19 . . .

The seniors started the day with optimism—anticipating graduation by selecting rings and pins for the class of 1945.

Christmas has come to all of us. During this day everyone had been seen slipping down the steps holding a well-wrapped present. And the humor that was expressed in each one should be on record! A banquet, the Sextette, Mary Frances, and Josephine singing a duet, "Jo Jo" a solo, and the Black Cat Quartet on "Don't Fence Me In." The climax of the evening came in with sleigh bells—Santa Claus.

A few hours of sleep, a few more classes, a rush to the station and I shall be on my way home. See you next year, Diary!

Wednesday, January 3 . . .

1945! We are back from the flurry, fluster, and flutter of our Christmas vacation. And it's fun talking, talking, talking. We have so many wonderful memories to last us 'til summer.

Monday, January 8 . . .

The Commercial Law class had its first session. Bill Moore and Wesley Soto were accused of taking a sign used for advertising antiques and placing it on the porch of the girls' dormitory. Buster Reed and Jesse Williams were the defendants, Milly Fariss and Jeneal King represented the state, Mrs. Warner was the sheriff, and Mary Ruth Ingram, the judge. The court adjourned with plans to resume again Wednesday at 10:30.

Tuesday, January 9 . . .

This morning in chapel Mrs. Frank Calhoun, president of the Literary Club, presented the library with a set of genealogy books which were sent with best wishes by the author, Carl Gardner.

Wednesday, January 10 . . .

The law class resumed court today and concluded the session with the jury's decision—not guilty—lack of evidence.

Thursday and Friday, January 11, 12 . . .

The Franklin H. Clapp Lectureship in the field of World Acquaintance to be given annually at Martin College for the benefit of the students and the people of the community of Pulaski has been established by the friends of Dr. Clapp who felt he would like to be remembered with creative impulses to better living. It was our privilege to be the first to receive the benefit of this lectureship.

Dr. Hugh C. Stuntz, president of Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee, was the speaker. His theme was, "America in the Postwar World," delivered in three lectures—"Good Neighbors in the Americas," "America's Place in the Postwar World," and "Good Neighbors in the Pacific."

Saturday, January 13 . . .

Tonight the Martin College girls and men were rivals with Campbells-ville in basketball. Both games were exciting. The girls' team was in top form—scoring twenty-three to Campbells-ville's twenty-one. Unfortunately, our men lost—seventeen to twenty-seven.

January 19-24 . . .

Oh! Those six weeks' tests are back again!

Sunday, January 21 . . .

The first pretty Sunday this winter—a prelude to spring.

Tuesday, January 23 . . .

Mrs. Giles Reynolds, the last member of the first graduating class of Martin College, passed away this morning. To us she has been the living symbol of Martin's history.

Thursday, January 25 . . .

A tea was given by the local chapter of Phi Theta Kappa to recognize its new members, Emma Jo Elam and Nancy Whitaker.

Saturday, January 27 . . .

Mrs. Woodward was hostess at an informal party for us in the lobby of Tennessee Hall tonight. We spent a delightful evening playing rook, Chinese checkers, flinch, anagrams, and ping-pong. Mrs. Fariss, co-hostess, served us delicious hot chocolate and cookies.

Wednesday, January 31 . . .

A joint class meeting was held this morning for the purpose of electing the eight most outstanding personalities on the campus. This is a great day for celebrities! Although all of us have an interesting personality when you get to know us, guess we will abide by the majority vote.

Friday, February 2 . . .

This afternoon the Dramatics Club presented to the student body at its regular meeting a one-act play entitled "The Strange Road." Nancy Jo, Evelyn Hulme, Betty June, and Nancy took the parts in this psychological drama.

Saturday, February 3 . . .

The Fine Arts and Speech Departments presented our first student recital. Every performer made us proud to be one of the audience.

Sunday, February 4 . . .

Rev. and Mrs. Sam Dodson arrived today to be our guests during the observance of Religious Emphasis Week. We were formally introduced to our visitors this afternoon at a tea given by the S. C. A. The most well-remembered parts of their visits will be the informal bull sessions in which each of us played a part.

We celebrated our Night of Hearts in the gym. In the center of the floor stood a beautiful Valentine—a large red heart bordered in white ruffles. The King and Queen, J. B. Fitzpatrick and Jane Dunavant, broke the center of the heart as they led the grand march. Following this we swung into lively folk games.

Wednesday, February 14 . . .

The Home Economics Club entertained its members and their dates at a formal Valentine party tonight. Mary Frances Gentry and Hunter Pitts of Mt. Pleasant were chosen as the King and Queen of Hearts. Mary Lucy was the attractive singer in the floor show.

All our lucky friends have certainly been generous in letting us sample their delicious holiday candy.

Sunday, February 18 . . .

The S. C. A. observed "Win the War Week" this afternoon with a special program in the auditorium.

Tuesday, February 20, to

Saturday, February 24 . . .

National Brotherhood Week was recognized in a series of chapel programs this week. Virginia Gunter was excellent giving "The American Way"—a dramatic story of a naturalized citizen and his children. We must congratulate Mazie for her part in the play, "December 7," with Emily Davis, Margaret Dickens, Virginia Edmunds, Wynla Adkins, Sue Petty, and Elaine Hamlett.

Wednesday, February 28 . . .

A tea was given in honor of the graduating seniors in the winter quarter as a farewell gesture. The honorees were Emily Davis, Sue Petty, Birdie Lee Marks, and Bessie Mae Alexander.

Friday, March 2 . . .

Examinations weren't so bad this second time, but it certainly is a relief to be through with them. We're very grateful for the three-day vacation interlude.

Spring Quarter

Saturday, March 10 . . .

Rev. E. L. Crump of Nashville,

Tennessee, was the center of interest in a fascinating and entertaining week end. Variety was the keynote. Not only were his talks illuminating but his magic was intriguing. He made keepsake recordings for us to hand down to future Martin students.

Tuesday, March 13 . . .

A group discussion concerning the relationship between the church and the government was led tonight by Rev. A. J. Davis. He also talked to us about the Methodist Caravans.

Friday, March 16 . . .

The Dramatics Club of Martin College presented a delightful and entertaining comedy in three acts, directed by Mrs. Floyd Gilbreath, "The Lilies of the Field," by John Hastings Turner. The scenes were laid in Gloucestershire in London in the 1930's. The leading characters were Bill Moore, the Rev. John Head; Roberta Stewart, his wife; S. C. (Buster) Reed as the antique collector; Maudie Hargis, the mother-in-law; Jo Neal Havill and Anna Ruth McCormack as the twin daughters. Supporting roles were taken by Loyde Middleton, Nancy Whitaker, Wynla Adkins, Lou Davis, and Ruth Green.

Wednesday, March 21 . . .

Officially we may say this is the first day of spring but who would think of walking out the front door without being fortified with galoshes, heavy coat, wool scarf, and fuzzy mittens?

Friday, March 23 . . .

We caught a brief glimpse of the Board of Executives as they joined us for lunch.

Saturday and Sunday, March 24, 25 . . .

One of the most memorable guests of our college year has been Dr. Bliss Wiant, Director of the Music Department at Scarritt College. For many years he has been one of the faculty in the School of Religion at Yenching University, Peking, China. Saturday night he appeared in our auditorium dressed in formal Chinese attire. He displayed many Chinese musical instruments, including those of the street vendors and one of the sixteen golden bells originally used by the Chinese emperor at the Altar of Heaven in 1538.

Sunday afternoon Dr. Wiant emphasized the ideal of international unity by teaching us hymns in the Chinese language. At this time he exhibited a valuable collection of Chinese coins and a Chinese kin.

Thursday, March 29 . . .

A day which is becoming of national interest to education is Vocational Guidance Day, sponsored by the Rotary Club and introduced first in Giles County High School.

Friday, March 30 . . .

There are just a few of us here. The others have all gone for Easter vacation and we're soon to leave. Just we and you, Diary, are left. For today you start your long pilgrimage with the printers. You will tell others of many big things yet to come—so let us jot them down as a reminder in future years of the many events of April and May, 1945.

The first Saturday after we return will be the Glee Club Concert, directed by Mrs. Collins. The Sextette and trio will also be on the program.

The week of April 8 through 13 will be a truly educational one for many Sunday school teachers to be. The Religious Education Department will conduct a laboratory school at the First Methodist Church. A trained leader will have as a model class twenty children while students observe. The night program will consist of two hour sessions devoted to evaluating and discussing the teaching methods.

This snow-laden tree resembles a giant mushroom.

the Year

April 11 will be a big day for there will be a meeting of the Board of Trustees in Nashville, Tennessee. We know that there will be lots in store for Martin next year, following this meeting.

A musical program of interest to everyone will take place on April 12. It will be a two piano recital given by Mrs. Thomas Booth and Miss Betty June Andrews, assisted by Miss Mary Frances Gentry, mezzo-soprano. Some of the most interesting numbers performed by Mrs. Booth and Miss Andrews will be:

Minuet a l' Antico, Sieboeck; Prelude and Valse, Arensky; Dark Eyes, Traditional Russian aria by Gould.

Miss Gentry's selections include:

My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice, "Samson et Delilah," Saint-Saens; The Sleep that Flits on Baby's Eyes, Carpenter; Do Not Go, My Love, Hogeman.

The Home Economics Club's spring formal is to be Friday, April 20. Wish we could say more but more definite plans have not been made. Can truthfully say that we know it will be fun.

On April 23 the Glee Club will go to Lawrenceburg to District Conference.

The Religious Education Department takes the lead again on April 28 in holding the District Vacation Church School Training Conference to train students for leadership in the church schools during the summer vacation.

As we think of the month of May many thoughts come to mind concerning Commencement Week, May Day, graduation recitals, and last, the coming of summer vacation.

The S. C. A. Retreat will take place on the fifth and sixth of May. Dr. Hill D. Bollinger will meet with the Cabinet to help on the formulation of plans for the next year. Dr. Bollinger is the National Director of Methodist Youth Work and is associated with Motive Magazine.

Nancy Jo Elliot and Evelyn Harrison will present a joint piano and voice program. Nancy Jo will play three Chopin numbers, "Black Key Etude," "Waltz in C-Sharp Minor," "Polonaise," and the "Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody," by Liszt. Evelyn inspires the dormant qualities of the gardeners.

Harrison will sing "Habanera," from "Carmen," by Bizet, and a group of Grieg numbers: "Sylvalin and Solvej's Song."

On Friday, May 18, the senior play, "I'd Rather Be Young," directed by Mrs. Gilbreath, will be presented. Unfortunately we cannot give the cast as it has not yet been chosen.

On the following night is the date set for the annual Junior-Senior Spring Formal. There is the promise of many out-of-town dates. The setting will be the beautifully shaded Martin campus at a time when all of the spring flowers will be in full bloom. We have heard rumors that music will be furnished by an orchestra during the buffet dinner, to be followed by a floor show.

In May the spring tournaments in archery, badminton, and tennis will be played off. Almost every pleasant afternoon will find us either on the courts or perched in the windows watching the matches.

Tuesday, May 22, is a big day for everyone—the Pulaski Horse Show. Expect we will see some of our girls and maybe even the men riding in the show.

Before the year is over there will be two concerts. One will be the Final Concert, probably the night of May 26. The other will be a joint graduating recital given by Betty June Andrews, pianist, and Josephine Pratt, contralto.

Program is as follows:

Two chorales: All Is Consummated, Bach-Philipp; My Heart Burns with Desire, Bach-Philipp—Miss Andrews.

Sea Slumber Song, Elgar; Herbststurm, Grieg; In the Boat, Grieg; Morning Hymn, Henschel—Miss Pratt.

Romance in F Sharp, Schumann; The Prophet Bird, Schumann; Capriccio in B Minor, Brahms—Miss Andrews.

Ah! rendimi "Mitrane," Rossi; La Charmante Marguerite, O'd French—Miss Pratt.

Tarantella (from "Years of Pilgrimage"), Liszt—Miss Andrews.

Och Grolle Nicht, Schumann; Whither, Schubert; Sopphische Ode, Brahms; Who'll Buy My Lavender, German—Miss Pratt.

First Movement from Concerto in A Minor, Grieg—Miss Andrews with Mrs. Booth at second piano.

How shall we feel gowning in graduation robes with our tassels neatly placed over our right eye? On Sunday morning, May 27, the college will go in one body to First Methodist Church. Dr. John O. Gross, General Secretary of Methodist educational institutions, will be the baccalaureate speaker. In their caps and gowns the seniors will march into the church and to the seats reserved for them. When the service is over we will return to the college feeling for the first time the full impact of graduation. In the afternoon they will pay those last Sunday visits, write notes and autographs in MARTINAIRE 1945.

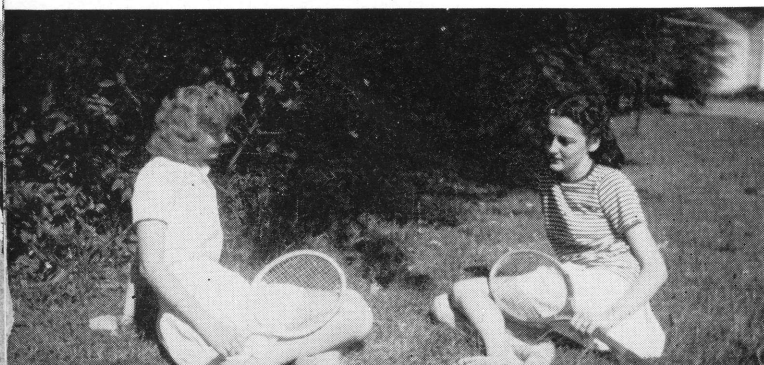

Monday is traditionally Alumni Day. If the plans resemble those last year there will be a program in the morning followed by a luncheon. During the day there will be exhibits in home economics laboratory, the art studio, and the science labs.

The sunrise breakfast will start our last morning, Tuesday, May 29, on Fort Hill.

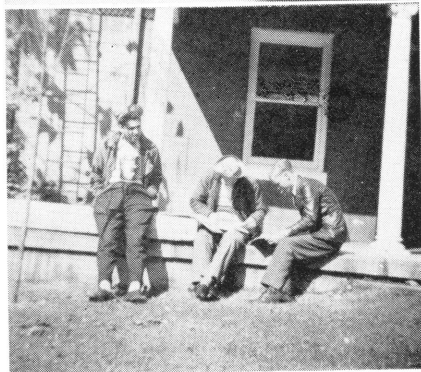

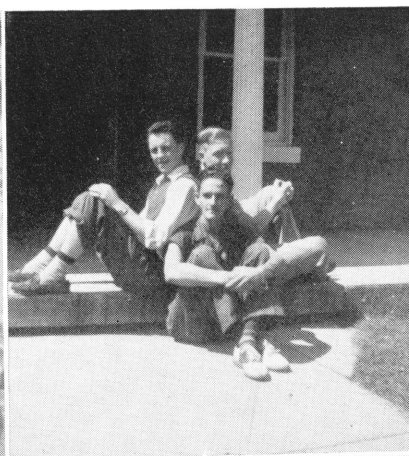

The academic processional will form and walk down the chapel aisle for the last time. The commencement address will be delivered by J. Percy Priest, Congressman from Tennessee, after which the honors will be announced. Then the diplomas and certificates will be given as our names are called.

After we leave the chapel we shall probably stand near the entrance, saying some last good-byes to people and to things we may not see again. No matter how often we come back it will never be quite the same again. We dash to our rooms, do the last minute packing, hurry down to our waiting families, and take one last look back, remembering. Good-bye to the year 1944-1945, and to you, dear Diary.

Culps and Parker may be rushing the season.

O u r f a v o r i t e

The ability to recognize and to respect the individuality of others is a quality we try to develop day by day. Through our contacts with many people, each possessing distinctive attitudes and char-

● Wynlna Adkins

Wynlna Adkins is our idea of a typical college girl. She came to us with her copper curls dancing and her sunny smile flashing. Her willingness to assume responsibility, her capable leadership as president of the junior class, and her ease in becoming a friend to us all readily win her the title of a MARTINAIRE personality.

● S. C. Reed

Introducing "Atlas"! Buster may not like his alias but don't you think it fits him? And, oh! to see that red convertible glide by adds a little glamour to the walkers' existence. Buster made good sports out of us in being one of the phys ed directors. Guess he really means a lot to us, for he was most like the "College Joe" which we have missed more than anything else during our school days.

● Mary Ruth Ingram

There are so many fine qualities that are a part of Mary Ruth's personality it would be impossible for us to characterize her as she deserves. She is our petite co-ed with a taste of the old South in her—poised, steady, reserved. There is an air of gentleness and friendliness about Mary Ruth which has won for her a wide circle of friends.

Personalities

acteristics, we learn to respect the personality of each one and to give to those we consider outstanding our recognition.

● Bill Moore

"I resemble a rock in this matter"—a rash statement for the easy-go-lucky "Vicar"—Bill. He really is an all-round good guy who always has an infectious giggle for every moment. And that curly hair! One of the most memorable characteristics of Bill is his voice. Is it possible that it could be falsetto or just a mere soprano?

● Zella Bonner

One of the most likable students on the campus is Zella, who happens to be the reigning "Miss Home Economics." Dependability, understanding, and integrity are characteristics most outstanding in this personality. It has meant a great deal to have her among us and we feel sure that this friendship she has given will carry over into later years.

● Inez Moore

Inez Moore is a true personification of athletic fun, for she possesses unlimited pep and a contagious giggle. She excels in all sports and it's a thrill and wonder for all of us to watch her smooth ability on the basketball court. Her sense of humor and friendly manner make her a "good-time gal" for everyone.

● Jesse Williams

There's little for us to say—he said it for us! Williams becomes a dynamo when he stands to his full height to discuss any subject with unquestionable authority. He should become a fine lawyer, for he is alert and lots of fun. We toss our bouquets to you, Jesse, for the responsibility you have taken as editor of the Martinet, a good school paper.

Our favorite Personalities

● Sue Benson

Two big brown eyes, a soft, pleading voice and a shy little smile are charms that have endeared Sue to each of us. There's a winsome, birdlike way about her that we don't find in many. This might be a good time to remind everyone of the national recognition Sue received on her essay, "The Kind of a College I Want," from the Motive magazine.
